

HOW ITALIANS SEE POLMOS?

Thanks to a school project we worked in CEDC for a month, here it's our report.

ANNA POLETTI

I have never been abroad and the idea to go in Poland was not so tempting. But despite my first opinion I was very impressed because I found a beautiful and modern city, very cozy. There are different habits compared to my country, but it was not so difficult to adapt with this lifestyle. I found some difficulty because lots of people do not speak English, but mainly my impression is very positive. I love this country!

CHIARA SELLA

When I knew the destination I was a bit scared because I did not know lots about Poland. My first preoccupation was only one : the language. The first days in Bialystok I saw how the ideas that I had were not true. The city is very well organised, modern and not so busy, absolutely better than some Italian city. The city was great, the accomodation in the hotel and the companionship too, so what can be wrong? Only two very small details : polish language and polish food. We did a polish course that taught me polish is not difficult as I imagined, it is more difficult. And what about the food? I can say that I found the compromise that left me survive in this amazing country.

POLAND

POLMOS

Polmos is a big company and I had the possibility to see all the production process of vodka, from raw materials to sale.

During the stage I worked in different department as well as my education field.

I did not develop important or difficult work, but I learnt a lot of new things that could be useful in my future.

In this company the collaboration and flexibility are very important, because the production of vodka never stop and they must work during the night.

I noticed that this company gives importance to improve work e and workers' condition, they make a lot of things to make it likeable and safe.

During my stage here I mostly worked in the laboratorium where I could tried some analysis that I learnt at school. I worked also in other department where I could follow all process of vodka, from the row material to the finish bottle.

During these days I could see how the collaboration and organization are necessary. Thanks to the connection, that is necessary between the different department, the communication is fundamental and as I could seen it works very well.

The big request of vodka from the market make the company grow and thanks to this I could seen that the developing of new product and the improvement of the other products are important.

RELATHIONSHIP

During the stage I was followed by Krystian, he was my tutor and I had a really good time with him.

He can speak English very well and he knows a lot of things about the company.

He is very kind and helpful.

Also the team work was fantastic: everyone was polite and available to help me and answer to my questions.

I socialized with lots of workers and I am sure that I will miss them when I will return in my country.

I really hope to return there to see them again and maybe work with them in the future.

In this month here I discovered amazing people. I have to thank Krystian , my tutor, who enable to organise my stage here and thanks him for his time.

In each department I met people who , even if they do not know English very well, were always available, competent and very friendly.

Mostly when i visit the department I did easy job and watched how the workers work and while they taught me their job they like knowing something about us and we like doing the same. Thanks to this we socialize a lot and even if the job was a bit boring it became more interesting and often funny.

I had great time here and I met fantastic people that I know I will miss when I come back Italy. Of course I will have amazing memories from this place and I really hope to come back one day.

SOME REGARDS

We want to remember some people who are great workers and also fantastic friends...we really want to thank them for their time, availability and sympathy.
